

K-PAX Immune Support Formula- ADAP/Medicaid Info for Physicians

K-PAX Immune Support Formula provides broad-spectrum nutritional support for people with compromised immune systems and has recently been shown to significantly boost CD4 counts in HIV-infected individuals taking HAART in a randomized clinical trial (JAIDS 2006:42(5):523-528).

In a double-blinded, placebo-controlled study, conducted at four US sites, patients taking K-PAX Immune Support Formula twice daily for 12-weeks experienced an mean increase of 26% in their CD4 cell count compared to 2% in the placebo group (p=0.03). All study patients took a stable antiretroviral medication regimen during the study period (n=40). The Micronutrient formula was well tolerated and can safely be combined with antiretroviral therapy.
